Precinct D—Ed Wolfert, A. A. Wiley, Fred Armstrong, Hal Hooker, Ernest Wray, and Noah Sipes.

The Democrats and Republicans will hold a mass meeting at the court house on Saturday, March 17, for the purpose of nominating their tickets. The Democrats will probably hold their meeting at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon and the Republicans will meet after the Democrats.

TO TALK BEAUTIFICATION

Three Neighborhood Meetings Are Scheduled for This Week to Plan Home Gardening.

This week will see the first of the neighborhood meetings scheduled by the City Beautification Committee for the purpose of spreading the propaganda of making Maryville more beautiful.

Tonight Prof. C. C. Leeson will address a neighborhood meeting at the home of Mrs. G. H. Colbert on East 5th street. He will use a set of stereopticon slides in his talk and will be prepared to answer any questions that may arise regarding the planning of gardens, the growing of flowers, etc.

Tomorrow night a similar meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. T. Bell on West Third street, and Wednesday night at the home of Miss Lucie Davis.

4,441 AT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Second Month of Contest Shows Great Increase of Attendance—First Methodist Church Leads.

Four thousand, four hundred and forty-one persons attended Sunday School in Nodaway county during the four Sundays in February, according to the statistics compiled by Philip Colbert, secretary of the Nodaway County Sunday School Contest committee. The attendance of each Sunday School in the contest which runs until May, was as follows for the last month:

Bedison Christian church, 95; Maryville Baptist church, 913; Maryville Christian church, 1,077; Maryville First Methodist church, 1,121; Maryville Methodist church, south, 396; Maryville Presbyterian church, 344; African Baptist church, 39; African Methodist church, 24; Myrtle Tree church, 153; Rockford, 107; Wilcox Christian church, 151, and total 4,441.

The attendance up to February was 5,554, which brings the grand total for the months of January and February, 9,965.

INSTALL A CASH REGISTER

Maryville Electric Light and Power Company Has A New One That Is Part Bookkeeper.

The Maryville Electric Light and Power company has purchased a new cash register for the office. It is the latest and most perfect product of the National Cash Register company, and is designed to take care not only of the Maryville business, but also of all the business of the branch offices.

The mechanism of the machine provides for the elimination of the cash book and the journal in the book-keeping system. As soon as a bill is paid the register receipts the bill on the book and also receipts a duplicate bill for the company. The duplicate bill is dropped into a separate locked compartment, and minimizes the danger of paying a bill and of not getting the proper credit for it.

The register is very valuable, but the work done by it is worth the money in the estimation of Manager C. C. Hellmers.

PLEDGE 390 FOR S. SCHOOL

Various Departments in First Methodist Church Working Hard to Increase Attendance

"400 for four months" is the slogan of the Sunday School classes of the First Methodist church, and from all appearances the members mean to keep their pledge to bring the average attendance up to the four hundred mark.

Pledges were asked for yesterday, and the following classes promised to have a certain average attendance for the Sundays of the next four months: Beginners, 30; primary department, 44; junior department, 60; intermediate department, 109; adult department, 107, and officers and teachers, 40. The class of Normal students was not in session yesterday or the number would doubtless have been brought beyond the four hundred. As it was, the various classes pledged 390. The number present at Sunday School yesterday was 352.

Miss Helen Trullinger, who is employed in the Lemley-Osborn Loan offices in Kansas City, returned to her work this afternoon after a pleasant week-end visit with her mother, Mrs. Cora Trullinger.

HAS GOOD QUARTET

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY HAS A STRONG FEATUR ETHIS YEAR.

2 ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

First Concert Will Consist of Song Recital by Miss Cooper and Mr. Harrison.

The quartet with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, which will appear in Maryville April 17 and 18, is the strongest group of singers that has ever accompanied them on their spring tours. The members are Marie Kaiser, soprano; Jean Vincent Cooper, contralto; Charles Harrison, tenor, and Royal Dadmun, baritone.

Marie Kaiser, soprano, is one of the most noted of American concert sopranos, and is one of the leading artists making records for the Edison phonograph.

Jean Vincent Cooper needs no introduction to the Maryville public as she appeared here last year and pleased a large audience with her selections. Everyone who has heard her will be glad of the opportunity to hear her again.

Charles Harrison, tenor, appeared last week in a concert in Kansas City and critics were unanimous in their praise of his singing, some even going so far as to say that he is the equal of McCormack. He is one of the leading popular singers making records for the Victor company.

Royal Dadmun, baritone, is one of the leading concert baritones of New York City. Last year he sang with the leading orchestras in America's larger cities.

The first concert of the spring festival will be held on Tuesday night, April 17, in the First Methodist church. The program will consist of a song recital by Miss Cooper and Mr. Harrison. The Wednesday afternoon and night concerts by the orchestra and singers will be given in the auditorium at the Normal. Many criticisms were heard last year that the church was not large enough to give the orchestra a chance to appear at its best. An effort to correct this will be made this year by having the orchestra concerts in the Normal auditorium. It is expected that the auditorium will be needed to accommodate the large crowd that will want to hear the orchestra this time.

BAND TO REMAIN HERE

E. E. Williams of Finance Committee and Assistants, Will Devise Plans To Defray Expenses.

The Fourth Regiment band will remain in Maryville. This was decided at the regular weekly luncheon of the Maryville Commercial club at the Elks club today. A round-table discussion brought out the fact that nearly every business man in the town was in favor of keeping the band and the current opinion was that the majority of the citizens of Maryville would do what they could to support it.

The facts were stated to those attending the dinner, and it was thought that the money to pay the salaries of Bandmaster T. B. Maulding and his son, Harold Maulding, could be raised by popular subscription. The matter was referred to the finance committee of which E. E. Williams is chairman. Mr. Williams was empowered to select any other persons he wished to aid him in devising plans for defraying the expenses of keeping the band here.

The illuminated flag which was placed on the court house for the home coming last Thursday will not be purchased, it was decided by the members present at the dinner.

The project of bringing the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to Maryville was announced by Professor P. O. Landon and was endorsed by the Commercial Club.

MAY YET ARM SHIPS

PRESIDENT'S ADVISERS THINK HE CAN ORDER IT DONE.

WILL EXAMINE STATUTES

Attorney General Will Examine Entire List to Look for Law Authorizing the Move.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson may yet be able to arm American merchantmen despite the decision of the old laws. Following the issuance of the president's statement last night, several administration advisers who are experts on international law sent word that in their opinion the president can actually order vessels to be armed. The president called Lansing and Gregory into consultation this afternoon. The secretary and attorney-general will examine the entire list of statutes.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson last night informed the country, in a statement, that he is without power to arm merchant ships and take other steps to meet the German submarine menace, in the absence of authority from congress, and that he was mistaken when he said in his recent address that he could act under broad constitutional authority.

An extra session of congress, the president says, is required to clothe him with authority, but it is useless to call one while the senate works under the present rules which permit a small minority to keep an overwhelming majority from acting.

The president proposes, therefore, that the special session of the senate, which has been called to meet today, revise the rules, "to supply the means of action and save the country from disaster."

"A little group of willful men," says the president in his statement, "representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

The president's statement in full follows:

"The termination of the last session of the sixty-fourth congress by constitutional limitation discloses a situation unparalleled in the history of the country, perhaps unparalleled in the history of any modern government. In the immediate presence of a crisis fraught with more subtle and far reaching possibilities of national danger than any other government has known within the whole history of its international relations, the congress has been unable to act either to safeguard the country or to vindicate the elementary rights of its citizens. More than 500 of the 531 members of the two houses were ready and anxious to act; the House of Representatives had acted by an overwhelming majority, but the Senate was unable to act because a little group of seven senators had determined that it should not."

Mrs. L. A. Fanning of Lone Wolf, Mont., who has been visiting several weeks with relatives in Maryville and Bedford, Ia., left Saturday for her home.

PLANNING FOR LOAN

GOV. GARDNER WILL BORROW $2,000,000 FOR STATE REVENUE.

INTEREST WILL BE LOW

Banks and Trust Companies Representing St. Louis Clearing House Will Lend Money.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mo., Mar. 5.—Plans for the loaning of two million dollars to the state of Missouri with which to make up deficits of the past two years in the revenue fund, will be completed this week. A. F. Lee and F. W. Lehman, representing the banks and trust companies composing the St. Louis Clearing House, already have stated that they are satisfied the loan would be made and at a low rate of interest. Both Mr. Lee and Mr. Lehman are here going over the details of the plan with Governor Gardner and Attorney-General McAllister.

It was explained that the loan would probably be divided between the banks and trust companies that are members of the Clearing House on the basis of their capital stock.

"These institutions are not going to take up this loan for the purpose of making money," Mr. Lehman said, "so the rate of interest will be low."

"The credit will be advanced as a result of the interest these institutions feel in the welfare of Missouri. Only a few details are yet to be disposed of. The banks and trust companies have all expressed a willingness to lend a helping hand to the state and assist the governor in getting it on a sound financial basis."

It is generally believed in banking circles that the rate of interest will be fixed at four per cent.

DR. ROBERT REAM DIES

Former Maryville Druggist Succumbs After Several Years' Illness—Burial in Maryville.

Dr. Robert Ream died at Van Wert, Ohio, at 2:30 o'clock last night after an illness of several years. The remains will arrive in Maryville tomorrow morning, and funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Ream was for several years owner of the Ream drug store, located where the Pearson drug store now is. He is survived by two brothers, Paul Ream of Kansas City, and Ed Ream of Van Wert, O., and a sister, Miss Ream of St. Joseph.

KREISER WELL KNOWN HERE

Kansas City Organist Shot and Killed By Wife Dedicated Organ in the First Methodist Church.

Edward Kreiser, who was shot and killed by his wife at his home in Kansas City, Saturday morning, was well-known in Maryville, having appeared here in recitals three times, and having dedicated the pipe organ at the First Methodist church at the time of its purchase about twenty-one years ago.

Ralph Eversole was at one time a pupil of Mr. Kreiser and speaks highly of his ability as well as of his character. He was organist at the Independence Boulevard Christian church at the time of the tragedy.

W. A. Heller and family will leave next week for St. Joseph, where they will make their home.

WILSON TAKES OATH

THE DOMINANT NOTE IN TODAY'S CEREMONY, "AMERICA FIRST."

GIVES A SHORT ADDRESS

Says That People of Nation Must Have Singleness of Purpose in Trying Days to Come.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 5.—Facing to use his own words, not a retrospect but the thoughts and purposes of the present and immediate future, Woodrow Wilson today subscribed in public to the oath as his own successor. Not since Lincoln kissed the Bible and subscribed to the same solemn obligation has a president been inducted into office under such extreme tension in National affairs as prevailed today.

The dominant note of the day was patriotism and for a united nation. The city was beautiful in its extreme simplicity, national colors alone prevailing in all decorations. From the moment the president and vice-president left the White House until the last man in the parade had passed the court of honor the one dominant note everywhere was "America First." President Wilson made this very plain in his inaugural address and insisted the nation must present a united front of its relations to the existing crisis. "We are of blood of all nations that are at war," declared the president solemnly and then demanded a singleness of purpose for people of nation in trying days that are immediately before us.

The sentiments thus uttered seemed to find a receptive tone in the hearts of all who heard him. The president never looked better.

Weather Clears Up.

Washington, Mar. 5.—A mist-like rain which had been falling throughout the early morning was stopped by heavy clouds, and gave evidence of disappearing and it seemed as if by chance weather would not spoil the inauguration ceremonies. The President renamed his present cabinet this morning.

Took Oath Yesterday.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson took the oath of office for his second term at noon yesterday in his room at the capitol and will be formally inaugurated today with public ceremonies reflecting a great national expression of Americanism.

Before a desk piled with executive business laid before him in the closing hours of congress, and surrounded by members of his official family, the president reaffirmed with uplifted hands and grave features his promise to uphold the constitution in whatever crisis may confront the nation in the momentous four years before it.

After he had repeated solemnly the oath taken first by Washington, a century and a quarter ago, he kissed the Bible at the passage reading:

"The Lord is our refuge; a very present help in time of trouble."

Chief Justice White administered the oath and was the first to extend his congratulations. The chief justice looked fervently into the president's face for a moment and said brokenly: "Mr. President, I am very very happy."

RECRUIT TO FULL STRENGTH.

Mrs. Low Works Energetically to Get Organizations to Take Up Training Instituted For Women by Navy League—English Girls Render Assistance in War.

New York.—Hundreds of girls and young women have joined the National Girl Scouts since the outbreak with Germany, and Mrs. Juliette Low, the national president, announced from the headquarters, 527 Fifth avenue, this city, that to meet any emergency the organization will be recruited up to the strength of the Boy Scouts of America. Mrs. Low telegraphed to Elliott Wadsworth, vice chairman of the American Red Cross at Washington, offering the services of the girl scouts. They are to co-operate with the nearest Red Cross branch.

It is Mrs. Low's ambition to make the girl scouts, already 100,000 strong, the greatest girl's organization in the world. Mrs. Low is prominent socially in England and Scotland as well as in this country.

The Girl Scouts of America is the same as the Girl Guides of England and the continent and is adapted to fill the same need in girl life that the boy scout movement fills for lads. Mrs. Low became interested in this work for girls through her observation of the boy scout movement in England by Sir Robert Baden-Powell and the almost simultaneously similar movement for girls started by his sister, Miss Agnes Baden-Powell. Sir Robert and his sister visited Mrs. Low upon her estates in Scotland and assisted her in starting the work among the Scottish lassies. They have recently come into the advisory board of the American organization.

Mrs. Low is now working energetically to get the organizations in the various cities to take up the training instituted for women by the Navy League. She has arranged for classes of girl scouts to take these courses and has offered prizes in that connection.

Mrs. Low saw the necessity for this work after watching the assistance rendered their country by the girls of England during the progress of the European war. She says there are innumerable things that girls can do in wartime to help their country if they are properly trained.

Mrs. Low will hold meetings in the cities she visits under the auspices of the women's clubs. All women who are interested in the movement looking to the uplift of American girlhood are invited to attend these meetings. Girls from educational institutions are especially invited, as are also college sororities and associations of college women. Mrs. Low, a brilliant speaker, is in demand both in the west and the east to explain the work.

Mrs. Low has great hopes that her visit to America at this time will be the means of arousing considerable interest in the movement among the women of the land. It is the purpose of Mrs. Low to explain the great good to be accomplished among the girls of the land through an organization of this kind and to tell something of the things that have already been accomplished in England and other European countries.

WAIST LINES TIGHTER.

Men to Wear Longer Coats and Not Padded.

Columbus, O.—Coats will be much longer, shoulders will be wider, with no padding, and coats will be high at the waist line in men's suits this coming season, according to styles set here by the fashions committee of the International Custom Cutters' Association.

The cutters say trousers will be wider, waistcoats will be cut low and will be tight at the waist line, and browns will be the proper shade for spring clothes. They also indicated that the Norfolk jacket will again be popular.

MOUNTAIN TRAIL BELLS TO HELP OUT TRAVELERS

Located Thousands of Feet Above Sea Level in Rockies.

Denver.—Travelers accustomed to the sound of fog bells on the Atlantic or Pacific coast will be amazed, perchance, to hear the warning ring next summer from 10,000 to 14,000 feet above the sea level in the Rocky mountains.

The tragic end of the Rev. Thornton R. Sampson of Texas, who disappeared in the Rocky Mountain National park while on a walking tour, has resulted in plans to safeguard the precipitous and dangerous trails of the park.

L. C. Way, supervisor of the Colorado playground, has devised the plan of having fog bells scattered along the trails at intervals from a quarter to a half mile apart on Flat Top, Longs peak, Halletts glacier and Halletts peak. The bells will be of deep tone and will be operated by a system similar to weather vanes.

The bells will be placed on posts about seven feet high. Suspended over the bell will be a small, light wooden paddle. The slightest breeze will tilt the paddle and ring the bell. There probably would not be one day in the year when the breeze would be insufficient to ring the bell.

While the mountains are not too dangerous for travel, even the most experienced traveler sometimes will lose the trails in the mountains. About 11,000 feet above sea level and above timber line heavy clouds sometimes totally obscure the sight of the traveler. Walking in the face of the wind with his head lowered, he is apt to lose his bearings.

LARGEST WIRELESS PLANT AT SAN DIEGO

New $300,000 Station Is Made Ready For Work After Satisfactory Tests.

San Diego, Cal.—The new $300,000 wireless telegraph station was recently completed and officially put in commission after suitable tests. It is the largest and most powerful radio station in the western hemisphere and is capable of carrying for 12,000 miles Messages from the British fleet cruising in the North sea, from the high powered German plant at Berlin and from American ships and from Australia have been intercepted.

Three units in the globe encircling radio service of the United States navy are now completed. These are the stations at San Diego, Arlington and Darien (Panama canal zone). A fourth is under construction at Manila.

The three 600 foot aerial towers form a triangle. They contain 1,000,000 pounds of fabricated steel and are the largest radio towers in the world. They are 150 feet in width at the base and eight feet at the apex. They are placed 1,100 feet apart. Huge porcelain insulators embedded in concrete form the base of each leg of the towers.

The receiving room is absolutely sound proof, the walls and floors being padded with asbestos. There are four distinct and complete controlling sets installed in the receiving room, enabling any one of the four operators or all four simultaneously to send and receive messages.

The aerials or antennae weigh sixteen tons and have a sag between towers of 100 feet. They are twice as large as those strung from the Eiffel tower in Paris. The helix is fourteen feet in diameter and eleven feet in height, or nine feet higher than the helix used in ordinary naval and commercial stations.

WOMAN IS A MAIL CARRIER.

She Braves Winter and Bad Roads in Maryland.

Baltimore.—Braving snow, sleet, drifts, biting winds in the winter and blistering and scorching heat in the summer, Miss Julia M. Shafer of Knoxville, Md., for twelve years has served the United States as rural mail carrier.

She is now covering the same route her father traveled fourteen years ago, when the route first was established. Miss Shafer in those days was a substitute for her father; now the father is substituting for her.

In the twelve years that Miss Shafer has carried mail it is estimated that she has traveled 93,090 miles. She makes twenty-five miles six days of the week. With the exception of the regular fifteen day annual vacation, Miss Shafer has been off duty only thirty days in twelve years.

LINER SAVES TWO AT SEA.

Barge Crew Drifting in Ice Covered Craft—Got $40 Purse.

New York.—The Ward liner Saratoga, from Havana, brought in two seamen, Jose Faria and Manuel Baptista, crew of the coal barge Edward F. Clark, which, with her sister barge, the Theodora Palmer, broke away from the ocean tug Minnie in a northwest early blast. The Saratoga fell in with the Clark, covered with ice and the seas breaking over her, about 240 miles south of Sandy Hook.

The two men launched a dory and rowed to the Saratoga and boarded her by a sea ladder. Captain Miller of the Saratoga also noted another barge flying distress signals with a tank standing by and preparing to take off the seamen. Passengers of the Saratoga made up a purse of $40 for the two seamen.

VEAL IS HEALTHFUL THE FOOD PROBLEM

IDEA THAT IMMATURE PRODUCT IS POISONOUS, UNFOUNDED.

LAW PROHIBITS ITS SALE

Experiments Show That Meat From Young Calves Is Harmless And Nutritious.

"For many years the idea has been prevalent that immature veal, also called 'bob' or 'monkey' veal, is unhealthy. There has even been an idea that it contained a positive poison of some sort," Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri says. "This popular idea is reflected in the laws of many states which prohibit the sale of veal under certain age, usually 3 to 6 week olds. Various charges have been made against it—that it is less wholesome, indigestible, that it contains a poison, that it causes intestinal and digestive disturbances, and other things. Curiously enough, this prejudice is only against veal, because squabs, broilers, young lambs and sucking pigs are considered delicacies, and sell for higher prices than the more mature article.

Numerous careful experiments have shown that there is no way in which the age of veal can be told when it is on the market. This means, of course, that there is no difference between the younger and older animals which can be detected by gross examination, under the microscope, or in any manner. Further, it has been shown by workers in the Bureau of Animal Industry that there are no significant differences in the chemical composition of beef and immature veal. In a large number of digestive experiments it was found that young veal was just as quickly digested as beef. The experiments showed that the meat from very young calves was harmless and nutritious.

"Still more recently, studies at the office of Home Economics in the State Relation Service at Washington, in which feeding experiments were conducted on human subjects in normal health, it was shown that the digestibility of the protein contained in 'bob' veal was exactly the same as that for market veal, namely, 93 per cent. The persons who subjected themselves to this feeding experiment showed no physiological disturbance during the experiments nor afterward. It was demonstrated that 'bob' veal could be prepared for the table in palatable ways, and was not unwholesome even when eaten in quantities.

"In European countries this prejudice is not held. How it started in America is difficult to say. We may conclude from the numerous and extensive studies which have been made in recent years that the opinion that 'bob' veal is a common cause of digestive disturbances or that it fails to digest as thoroughly as older meats is without any foundation in fact. 'Bob' veal is palatable, digestive and wholesome."

INCREASE IN COST OF LIVING IS A NEW DIFFICULTY.

SUGGESTS SUBSTITUTES

Housewife Must Know Relative Values of Different Foods in Order to Make Good Choice.

Purchasing food supplies and planning and preparing three meals a day has always been a problem, but with the increase in food prices, the problem is becoming more difficult every day. The abnormal price of certain foods leads the careful housewife to seek substitutes but if she does not know the relative values of the different foods, she cannot make her substitutes intelligently. A knowledge of the part that each of the different classes of foods performs in the body upkeep is essential. Without this knowledge serious mistakes may be made. Miss Bab Bell of the Missouri College of Agriculture makes a few suggestions relative to decreasing the cost of living.

(1) Make a thorough study of the different classes of foods and the function of each in the body.

(2) Plan meals carefully so that foods are not duplicated. For instance, do not serve Irish and sweet potatoes in the same meal; cheese and meat; rice and potatoes, spinach and lettuce; navy beans and meat.

(3) Substitute in part, corn starch for eggs; rice for potatoes; meat substitutes for meat; some good oil for olive oil; some product for butter, especially in cooking; cornmeal for wheat flour. Milk is one of the best foods and consequently can be substituted for higher priced foods. Skim-milk has a high protein value.

The cost of living may be reduced by:

(1) Purchasing food supplies in large quantities when a good store-room is available, and by purchasing foods in season.

(2) Preparing the exact amount of food needed. Some foods cannot be warmed or made over.

(3) Planning meals to utilize all "left-overs" and thus reducing the waste which ordinarily goes to the garbage can.

(4) Training children and adults as well not to waste foods at the table by leaving quantities on their plates.

(5) Doing your own marketing if possible.

(6) Growing vegetables on every foot of ground available and by canning fruits and vegetables; storing eggs, butter and other products to be used during winter.

Mrs. Macy Worth of Burlington Junction spent Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams.

Miss Verna Alely visited over Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Alely, of Burlington Junction.

WITH FEDERAL AID

A COMPREHENSIVE SCHEME OF ROAD BUILDING POSSIBLE.

ROAD PROGRAM PLEAS

Interesting and Instructive to Note That No State Goes Back on Highway Projects.

Long experience proves that no comprehensive scheme of road construction can grow out of local interests or local initiative.

The recent passage of the Federal Aid Road Law begins a plan that should have been started two generations ago. When we recall the vast area of land that the government has turned over to private enterprise for the construction of railways we wonder at the long delayed appreciation of the need of public encouragement and support for the construction of highways to serve as feeders to these transcontinental lines.

The granting of vast areas of the public domain to private individuals to promote the development of new territory was fully justified in the minds of our early statesmen. Whether the same result might not have been attained at less cost to the nation, is a debatable question. Certainly no one in these days would recommend this method of support to develop a network of highways. Direct Federal aid is now believed to be the better plan and the Shackleford bill furnishes the machinery for such aid. It is wisely planned that the support of the federal government shall be supplemented in equal measure by the individual states. This allows a flexibility demanded by the widely varied interests of different sections of the country and the state furnishes a proper unit of control. State legislation in turn will be supplemented by an appeal to the similar unit, the county, and within the county, townships and districts may be further called upon for special contribution and support in accordance with local needs.

It is interesting and instructive to note that no state, having once started upon a road program, has ever taken a single backward step. Furthermore, in practically all cases the tendency is toward a more complete centralization of control within the state as a unit.

Those state highway commissions are doing the best work who recognize the needs of local districts and who give these full consideration in the carrying out of more comprehensive schemes. A fully developed plan for the future should be upon a Federal Office of Public Roads, a state highway commission for every state, and an organization within these commissions that will be responsive to the local needs of every part of the state.

Pet Dog Saves Him.

THE AVERAGE GIRL

BECOMES DISILLUSIONED UPON ENTERING BUSINESS LIFE.

WOULD LIVE OWN LIFE

Finds That Man's Supposed Freedom Is Largely A Matter of Tradition.

The average girl, turning from school or home to engage in any gainful occupation, thrills under certain illusions concerning the life upon which she is about to enter.

On the manner in which she meets disillusionments and adjusts herself to actual conditions will depend not only on her success as a wage-earner but her happiness as a woman.

The first illusion is her belief that she will henceforth have the right to live her own life as a man lives his. It is summed up in the phrase, "personal liberty."

This illusion vanishes when she discovers that a man does not lead his own life as she has pictured it. Instead, he lives the life prescribed for him by his employers, by his commercial or professional ambitions, by his family connections and by society. Defying any of these elements, he pays as heavily as a woman pays, though not in just the same way.

His vaunted "personal independence" is largely a matter of tradition handed down from cave-dwelling ancestors. It may impress the clinging vine, s tay-at-home-with-mother type of girl, but it crumbles to dust before the stern realities which he and the business girl share.

She finds that he obeys orders and renders capable service during working hours, or he loses his position. He sacrifices his personal desires and pleasures to meet his obligations as husband, father, and son, or he is held up to scorn by public opinion and the law. He lives up to a certain moral code or he is despised of his own sex.

Next, she discovers that, having demanded equality with men in business, she must share their working conditions, must obey their rules and regulations, and must meet many of their obligations and responsibilities to employers and society. She is not free to live her own life, as she pictured it. Economic, industrial, and social conditions hedge the path in which she must walk.

If she refuses to accept these conditions, various unfortunate things may happen. If she possesses a slothful mind, a mutinous spirit, and sufficient sexure, she utilizes her opportunities in the business world to practice woman's world-worn profession while she retains a modicum of social standing by holding some unimportant position which taxes neither body or brain.

If she has the slothful brain and the rebellious spirit, but lacks the lure by which she can prey on men, she makes work the secondary interest in her life and concentrates what little ability and intelligence she possesses on winning a husband.

If she decides to accept the true business conditions and to rise in the gainful occupation which she has chosen, then, like a man, she throws body, brain and soul into the work, and wrests success from it.—Pictorial Review.

Beautify Your Home

At this particular time when so much thought and effort is being put forth in making the home beautiful by plant gardening and other means of exterior decorations, we are receiving and placing on display wonderful new assortments of the newest creations for beautifying the interior of the home.

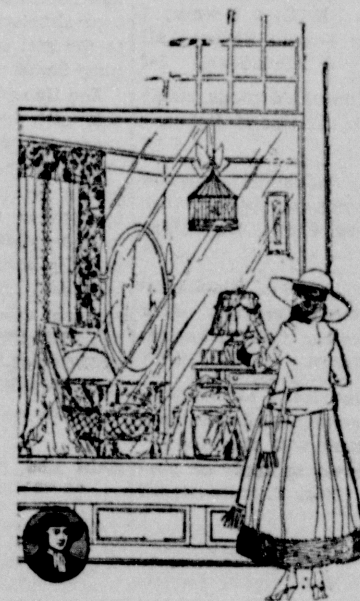

By the use of these new Wall Papers, Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Madras, Sundours, Rugs and various other Draperies and floor coverings the most ordinary rooms in the every-day sort of home can be raised entirely above the commonplace, with little work or expense and in a way that will reveal the thought and planning put into it.

CRETONNE.

Nothing is more refreshing and beautiful in home decorating than a pretty curtain of floral cretonne or quaint block-printed effect in chintz. Then, there are many household articles that can be made of Colonial Drapery Fabrics in designs and colorings to match the curtains, combining art and utility in home decoration.

We are now displaying a beautiful new assortment of the newest designs in cretonne at the yard 15c to 65c

We are also showing a complete line of cretonne cushions that were designed and made by the School of Art of Chicago. These are beautiful creations and you should not fail to see them. Prices are $1.25 and $1.50

CURTAIN NETS.

Our new showing of curtain laces is attracting the attention of discriminating patrons. Beautiful lace nets that are serviceable, yet distinctive styles and patterns that will give you rich opportunity to make selections that will beautify your home at a very moderate cost.

Nottingham, filet, and leever lace nets, some with dainty lace edge, ecru, ivory and white, new, original all-over patterns that were designed for the Quaker Lace Manufacturers. This offers a wonderful assortment to select from and every one of these new nets are real values at the prices—the yard 25c to $1.50

Complete line of edgings to match nets, serims, cretonnes and sundours, at the yard 2c to 25c

OVER-DRAPINGS.

In addition to the large assortment of new cretonnes for over-drapes, we have a wide variety of new plain and figured Sundours—These are in mulberry, green, rose, blue, brown and gold and are in distinctive designs that will give your windows a touch of individuality. These new Sundours are priced at 40c to $2.00

We take measures and make curtains and over-drapes to order and are in excellent position to give you valuable suggestions and assistance in planning your new spring drapes.

In addition to the new draperies, the home furnishings department is showing large ass'ts of new wall papers, floor coverings. Pay this department a visit and you will be welrepaid for the time spent here.

while Wilbur Briggs was clerk of the court and Chester Espey, sheriff.

The trial progressed rapidly amid many outbursts of laughter by the audience and jury, caused by the wit of the lawyers and the testimony of the witnesses. The witnesses for the plaintiff were Miss Betty Botter (Miss Edna Busby), the life-long chum of Peggy Jane, Miss Jenny Snicklefritz, a schoolmate of Miss Peggy (Mrs. Ray Masters), Mr. Billy Billkens (Mr. Will Bracken), an old friend of both plaintiff and defendant, Miss Susie Ford (Mrs. Wilbur Briggs), a sister of the defendant testified against him. The Sharpstack (Mr. Ray Masters), Madame Styleleader, an actress whose last play was given at the Hippodrome in Arkoe, Mo., was Mrs. J. Mutz. Professress Suresmart (Mrs. Chester Espey), was the boyhood teacher of the defendant. The main witness for the defendant, however, was Dr. Duroc, a graduate from the Agricultural College of Sunnybrook, who proved the insanity of Mr. Ford. This part was taken by Mr. Roland Evans.

After much deliberation the trial resulted in a hung jury.

After the trial a luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her

Ruby Mae Windsor. The guests departed at a late hour singing the patriotic songs so dear to our hearts just now.

The members of the club present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Debord and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Espey, T. H. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mutz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bracken and son, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Briggs and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Evans and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Masters. The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Butts and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs.

'GLORIANA' AT THE FERN

Production Shown This Afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will receive part benefit from the production of the Bluebird photoplay, "Gloriana," which will be given at the Fern Theatre Monday afternoon and evening. The women belonging to Division E, are selling the tickets and report a ready sale. The press notice of the play, "Gloriana," is as follows:

She was a child of the stage, suddenly orphaned. Accepting the trust from the dying mother a wealthy doctor agreed to rear the child and care for her. First she was placed in an orphan asylum, but was finally adopted and came to live in Dr. Manning's home. Mrs. Manning was a proud and haughty aristocrat, blind to her own shortcomings and much opposed to the girl coming to live in the Manning home.

Zoe Rae plays the leading role. How this girl, by her childish process of reasoning was able to open the eyes of this austere woman and change her into a loving and companionable foster-mother constitutes a most interesting photoplay—a picture of especially strong appeal to women and children. There are more than a score of other children in the picture, but little Zoe Rae carries the responsibilities of leading the action through five interesting reels of beautiful photography and skillful photoacting.

In Case of War.

In reading our exchanges we get the idea that there would be no trouble in finding plenty of officers to command any amount of soldiers that we can get. Here are the names of a few that come to our mind: First of all is that old war horse "Col." R. P. Hosmer then comes the "Colonel" Max Babb, "Col." Cies, "Col." Caywood and last but not least our own "Col." A. J. Cox—Yes, and there's "Col." Bill Whaley. Get your soldiers and we'll get the officers—all right, all right.—Barnard Bulletin.

What Leghorn Hens Can Do.

Mrs. G. B. Hawk, who lives northeast of town, kept an accurate account of what 200 Leghorn hens can do in one year, or at least what they did do in the year 1916.

They laid 13,900 eggs, or 1,158 1-2 dozen. The eggs sold brought her $162.16. The family used 208 dozen and 7 eggs. Chickens sold amounted to $41.41. Total amount of eggs and chickens sold in 1916, $203.47.

Mrs. Hawk would like to hear from someone else having the same amount of hens.—Parnell Sentinel.

THE ONWARD MARCH OF Bronchitis and deep seated Coughs is arrested by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In those atrocious conditions of the blood which invite Consumption; in severe, lingering Coughs, and Weak Lungs, which threaten you with this fatal disease, and when other help has failed—this medicine is a proved remedy.

As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and tonic it is sure to benefit. In all lingering Bronchial and Throat affections, and in every disease that can be reached through the blood, it never fails to benefit or cure. In tablet or liquid form.

The machinery of the body needs to be well oiled, kept in good condition just as the automobile, steam engine or bicycle. Why should the human system, with its own machinery more than that of his horse or his engine? Yet most people do neglect themselves. Clean the system at least once a week with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

What Is Uric Acid?

Everyone has uric acid in the system, but naturally in small quantities. Excessive amount is caused by eating too much meat and foods that ferment in stomach. The kidneys, being the filters of the blood, are supposed to separate and throw the poisons out of the system. Weak, tired and overworked kidneys fail to do this, hence the uric acid accumulates and the urate salts are carried by the blood to the solid tissue structure, causing backache, lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, drowsiness, and tired feeling.

To overcome the trouble is only a matter of toning up the kidneys, and this is best done by a treatment with Anuric, three times a day. Anuric is a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., and can be obtained at any drug store. Experience taught Doctor Pierce that Anuric is a more powerful agent than lithia in dissolving uric acid, and it is then carried out of the system.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a hilly look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

4,441 AT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Second Month of Contest Shows Great Increase of Attendance—First Methodist Church Leads.

Four thousand, four hundred and forty-one persons attended Sunday School in Nodaway county during the four Sundays in February, according to the statistics compiled by Philip Colbert, secretary of the Nodaway County Sunday School Contest committee. The attendance of each Sunday School in the contest which runs until May, was as follows for the last month:

Bedison Christian church, 95; Maryville Baptist church, 913; Maryville Christian church, 1,077; Maryville First Methodist church, 1,121; Maryville Methodist church, south, 396; Maryville Presbyterian church, 344; African Baptist church, 36; African Methodist church, 24; Myrtle Tree church, 153; Rockford, 107; Wilcox Christian church, 151, and total 4,441. The attendance up to February was 5,554, which brings the grand total for the months of January and February, 9,965.

INSTALL A CASH REGISTER

Maryville Electric Light and Power Company Has A New One That Is Part Bookkeeper.

The Maryville Electric Light and Power company has purchased a new cash register for the office. It is the latest and most perfect product of the National Cash Register company, and is designed to take care not only of the Maryville business, but also of all the business of the branch offices.

The mechanism of the machine provides for the elimination of the cash book and the journal in the book-keeping system. As soon as a bill is paid the register receipts the bill on the book and also receipts a duplicate bill for the company. The duplicate bill is dropped into a separate locked compartment, and minimizes the danger of paying a bill and of not getting the proper credit for it.

The register is very valuable, but the work done by it is worth the money in the estimation of Manager C. C. Hellmers.

PLEDGE 390 FOR S. SCHOOL

Various Departments in First Methodist Church Working Hard to Increase Attendance

"400 for four months," is the slogan of the Sunday School classes of the First Methodist church, and from all appearances the members mean to keep their pledge to bring the average attendance up to the four hundred mark. Pledges were asked for yesterday, and the following classes promised to have a certain average attendance for the Sundays of the next four months: Beginners, 30; primary department, 44; junior department, 60; intermediate department, 109; adult department, 107, and officers and teachers, 40. The class of Normal students was not in session yesterday or the number would doubtless have been brought beyond the four hundred. As it was, the various classes pledged 390. The number present at Sunday School yesterday was 352.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY HAS A STRONG FEATURE THIS YEAR.

2 ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

First Concert Will Consist of Song Recital by Miss Cooper and Mr. Harrison.

The quartet with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, which will appear in Maryville April 17 and 18, is the strongest group of singers that has ever accompanied them on their spring tours. The members are Marie Kaiser, soprano; Jean Vincent Cooper, contralto; Charles Harrison, tenor, and Royal Dadmun, baritone.

Marie Kaiser, soprano, is one of the most noted of American concert sopranos, and is one of the leading artists making records for the Edison phonograph.

Jean Vincent Cooper needs no introduction to the Maryville public as she appeared here last year and pleased a large audience with her selections. Everyone who has heard her will be glad of the opportunity to hear her again.

Charles Harrison, tenor, appeared last week in a concert in Kansas City and critics were unanimous in their praise of his singing, some even going so far as to say that he is the equal of McCormack. He is one of the leading popular singers making records for the Victor company.

Royal Dadmun, baritone, is one of the leading concert baritones of New York City. Last year he sang with the leading orchestras in America's larger cities.

The first concert of the spring festival will be held on Tuesday night, April 17, in the First Methodist church. The program will consist of a song recital by Miss Cooper and Mr. Harrison. The Wednesday afternoon and night concerts by the orchestra and singers will be given in the auditorium at the Normal. Many criticisms were heard last year that the church was not large enough to give the orchestra a chance to appear at its best. An effort to correct this will be made this year by having the orchestra concerts in the Normal auditorium. It is expected that the auditorium will be needed to accommodate the large crowd that will want to hear the orchestra this time.

BAND TO REMAIN HERE

E. E. Williams of Finance Committee and Assistants, Will Devise Plans To Defray Expenses.

The Fourth Regiment band will remain in Maryville. This was decided at the regular weekly luncheon of the Maryville Commercial club at the Elks club today. A round-table discussion brought out the fact that nearly every business man in the town was in favor of keeping the band and the current opinion was that the majority of the citizens of Maryville would do what they could to support it.

The facts were stated to those attending the dinner, and it was thought that the money to pay the salaries of Bandmaster T. B. Maulding and his son, Harold Maulding, could be raised by popular subscription. The matter was referred to the finance committee of which E. E. Williams is chairman. Mr. Williams was empowered to select any other persons he wished to aid him in devising plans for defraying the expenses of keeping the band here.

The illuminated flag which was placed on the court house for the home coming last Thursday will not be purchased, it was decided by the members present at the dinner.

The project of bringing the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to Maryville was announced by Professor P. O. Landon and was endorsed by the Commercial Club.

MAY YET ARM SHIPS

PRESIDENT'S ADVISERS THINK HE CAN ORDER IT DONE.

WILL EXAMINE STATUTES

Attorney General Will Examine Entire List to Look for Law Authorizing the Move.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson may yet be able to arm American merchantmen despite the decision of the old laws. Following the issuance of the president's statement last night, several administration advisers who are experts on international law sent word that in their opinion the president can actually order vessels to be armed. The president called Lansing and Gregory into consultation this afternoon. The secretary and attorney-general will examine the entire list of statutes.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson last night informed the country, in a statement, that he is without power to arm merchant ships and take other steps to meet the German submarine menace, in the absence of authority from congress, and that he was mistaken when he said in his recent address that he could act under broad constitutional authority.

An extra session of congress, the president says, is required to clothe him with authority, but it is useless to call one while the senate works under the present rules which permit a small minority to keep an overwhelming majority from acting.

The president proposes, therefore, that the special session of the senate, which has been called to meet today, revise the rules, "to supply the means of action and save the country from disaster."

"A little group of willful men," says the president in his statement, "representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

The president's statement in full follows:

"The termination of the last session of the sixty-fourth congress by constitutional limitation discloses a situation unparalleled in the history of the country, perhaps unparalleled in the history of any modern government. In the immediate presence of a crisis fraught with more subtle and far-reaching possibilities of national danger than any other government has known within the whole history of its international relations, the congress has been unable to act either to safeguard the country or to vindicate the elementary rights of its citizens. More than 500 of the 531 members of the two houses were ready and anxious to act; the House of Representatives had acted by an overwhelming majority, but the Senate was unable to act because a little group of seven senators had determined that it should not."

Mrs. L. A. Fanning of Lone Wolf, Mont., who has been visiting several weeks with relatives in Maryville and Bedford, Ia., left Saturday for her home.

PLANNING FOR LOAN

GOV. GARDNER WILL BORROW $2,000,000 FOR STATE REVENUE.

INTEREST WILL BE LOW

Banks and Trust Companies Representing St. Louis Clearing House Will Lend Money.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mo., Mar. 5.—Plans for the loaning of two million dollars to the state of Missouri with which to make up deficits of the past two years in the revenue fund, will be completed this week. A. F. Lee and F. W. Lehman, representing the banks and trust companies composing the St. Louis Clearing House, already have stated that they are satisfied the loan would be made and at a low rate of interest. Both Mr. Lee and Mr. Lehman are here going over the details of the plan with Governor Gardner and Attorney-General McAllister.

It was explained that the loan would probably be divided between the banks and trust companies that are members of the Clearing House on the basis of their capital stock.

"These institutions are not going to take up this loan for the purpose of making money," Mr. Lehman said, "so the rate of interest will be low. The credit will be advanced as a result of the interest these institutions feel in the welfare of Missouri. Only a few details are yet to be disposed of. The banks and trust companies have all expressed a willingness to lend a helping hand to the state and assist the governor in getting it on a sound financial basis."

It is generally believed in banking circles that the rate of interest will be fixed at four per cent.

DR. ROBERT REAM DIES

Former Maryville Druggist Succumbs After Several Years' Illness—Burial in Maryville.

Dr. Robert Ream died at Van Wert, Ohio, at 2:30 o'clock last night after an illness of several years. The remains will arrive in Maryville tomorrow morning, and funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Ream was for several years owner of the Ream drug store, located where the Pearson drug store now is. He is survived by two brothers, Paul Ream of Kansas City, and Ed Ream of Van Wert, O., and a sister, Miss Ream of St. Joseph.

KREISER WELL KNOWN HERE

Kansas City Organist Shot and Killed By Wife Dedicated Organ in the First Methodist Church.

Edward Kreiser, who was shot and killed by his wife at his home in Kansas City, Saturday morning, was well-known in Maryville, having appeared here in recitals three times, and having dedicated the pipe organ at the First Methodist church at the time of its purchase about twenty-one years ago.

Ralph Eversole was at one time a pupil of Mr. Kreiser and speaks highly of his ability as well as of his character. He was organist at the Independence Boulevard Christian church at the time of the tragedy.

W. A. Heller and family will leave next week for St. Joseph, where they will make their home.

Miss Bertha Fanning visited over Sunday in Barnard with her parents.

WILSON TAKES OATH

THE DOMINANT NOTE IN TODAY'S CEREMONY, "AMERICA FIRST."

GIVES A SHORT ADDRESS

Says That People of Nation Must Have Singleness of Purpose in Trying Days to Come.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 5.—Facing to use his own words, not a retrospect but the thoughts and purposes of the present and immediate future, Woodrow Wilson today subscribed in public to the oath as his own successor. Not since Lincoln kissed the Bible and subscribed to the same solemn obligation has a president been inducted into office under such extreme tension in National affairs as prevailed today.

The dominant note of the day was patriotism and for a united nation. The city was beautiful in its extreme simplicity, national colors alone prevailing in all decorations. From the moment the president and vice-president left the White House until the last man in the parade had passed the court of honor the one dominant note everywhere was "America First." President Wilson made this very plain in his inaugural address and insisted the nation must present a united front of its relations to the existing crisis.

"We are of blood of all nations that are at war," declared the president solemnly and then demanded a singleness of purpose for people of nation in trying days that are immediately before us.

The sentiments thus uttered seemed to find a receptive tone in the hearts of all who heard him. The president never looked better.

Weather Clears Up.

Washington, Mar. 5.—A mist-like rain which had been falling throughout the early morning was stopped by heavy clouds, and gave evidence of disappearing and it seemed as if by chance weather would not spoil the inauguration ceremonies. The President renamed his present cabinet this morning.

Took Oath Yesterday.

Washington, Mar. 5.—President Wilson took the oath of office for his second term at noon yesterday in his room at the capitol and will be formally inaugurated today with public ceremonies reflecting a great national expression of Americanism.

Before a desk piled with executive business laid before him in the closing hours of congress, and surrounded by members of his official family, the president reaffirmed with uplifted hands and grave features his promise to uphold the constitution in whatever crisis may confront the nation in the momentous four years before it.

After he had repeated solemnly the oath taken first by Washington, a century and a quarter ago, he kissed the Bible at the passage reading:

"The Lord is our refuge; a very present help in time of trouble."

Chief Justice White administered the oath and was the first to extend his congratulations. The chief justice looked fervently into the president's face for a moment and said brokenly: "Mr. President, I am very very happy." (Continued on Page 2.)

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Mar. 5.—Bulgaria has decided to break off diplomatic relations with the United States, but Austria for the time being at least will not recall her ambassadors, according to dispatches received here today. The Bulgarian minister at Washington will demand his passports this week says a Swiss dispatch.

Report Not Confirmed.

Washington, Mar. 5.—The reports from London that Bulgaria had decided to withdraw her minister caused a surprise here, although it is well known that Germany absolutely dominates her ally in every way. Up to the present there is no confirmation of the report here.

WHAT BERLIN THINKS.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, Mar. 5.—Mexico will begin hostilities against the United States at once if war breaks out between the United States and Germany, a portion of the German press believes.

Liner, Drina, Sinks.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Buenos Aires, Mar. 5.—The British liner, Drina, of 11,500 tons and carrying passengers and a cargo of meat from Argentina to England has been sunk, a local officer of the Royal Mail steamship announced. It was attached by a submarine, it is thought. The passengers and crew were landed.

SUBMARINES MAKE REPORTS.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, Mar. 5.—Two submarines recently returned home from their bases and reported they sank fifteen steamers and seven sailing ships.

Fire At Parnell.

The eight-room dwelling house two miles south of Parnell belonging to Ellis Lyle and known as the C. C. Evans place, was partially destroyed by fire this morning. It is thought that the fire started from a spark. The damage was fully covered by insurance.

Miss Swope Breaks Arm.

Miss Irene Swope, who teaches the Snowball school near Parnell, suffered a broken arm yesterday when the buggy in which she was riding was overturned, the team becoming frightened at an automobile. Miss Swope is improved today.

OUR GIRL SCOUTS

Hundreds Joined When Break
With Germany Came.

RECRUIT TO FULL STRENGTH.

Mrs. Low Works Energetically to Get
Organizations to Take Up Training
Instituted For Women by Navy League—English Girls Render Assistance in War.

New York.—Hundreds of girls and young women have joined the National Girl Scouts since the outbreak with Germany, and Mrs. Juliette Low, the national president, announced from the headquarters, 527 Fifth avenue, this city, that to meet any emergency the organization will be recruited up to the strength of the Boy Scouts of America.
Mrs. Low telegraphed to Elliott Wadsworth, vice chairman of the American Red Cross at Washington, offering the services of the girl scouts. They are to co-operate with the nearest Red Cross branch.

It is Mrs. Low's ambition to make the girl scouts, already 100,000 strong,
the greatest girl's organization in the

GIRL SCOUTS IN WOODS.

world. Mrs. Low is prominent socially
in England and Scotland as well as in this country.

The Girl Scouts of America is the same as the Girl Guides of England
and the continent and is adapted to fill
the same need in girl life that the boy scout movement fills for lads. Mrs.
Low became interested in this work
for girls through her observation of the boy scout movement in England
by Sir Robert Baden-Powell and the almost simultaneously similar movement for girls started by his sister, Miss Agnes Baden-Powell. Sir Robert
and his sister visited Mrs. Low upon her estates in Scotland and assisted her in starting the work among the Scottish lassies. They have recently come into the advisory board of the American organization.

Mrs. Low is now working energetically to get the organizations in the various cities to take up the training instituted for women by the Navy league.
She has arranged for classes of girl scouts to take these courses and has offered prizes in that connection.

Mrs. Low saw the necessity for this work after watching the assistance rendered their country by the girls of England during the progress of the European war. She says there are innumerable things that girls can do in wartime to help their country if they are properly trained.

Mrs. Low will hold meetings in the cities she visits under the auspices of the women's clubs. All women who are interested in the movement looking to the uplift of American girlhood are invited to attend these meetings. Girls from educational institutions are especially invited, as are also college sororities and associations of college women. Mrs. Low, a brilliant speaker, is in demand both in the west and the east to explain the work.

Mrs. Low has great hopes that her visit to America at this time will be the means of arousing considerable interest in the movement among the women of the land. It is the purpose of Mrs. Low to explain the great good to be accomplished among the girls of the land through an organization of this kind and to tell something of the things that have already been accomplished in England and other European countries.

WAIST LINES TIGHTER.

Columbus, O.—Coats will be much

by the fashions committee of the International Custom Cutters' Association.
The cutters say trousers will be wider,
waistcoats will be cut low and will
be tight at the waist line, and browns
will be the proper shade for spring clothes. They also indicated that the Norfolk jacket will again be popula-

MOUNTAIN TRAIL BELLS
TO HELP OUT TRAVELERS

Located Thousands of Feet Above Sea Level in Rockies.

Denver.—Travelers accustomed to the sound of fog bells on the Atlantic or Pacific coast will be amazed, perchance, to hear the warning ring next summer from 10,000 to 14,000 feet
above the sea level in the Rocky mountains.

The tragic end of the Rev. Thornton
R. Sampson of Texas, who disappeared
in the Rocky Mountain National park
while on a walking tour, has resulted in plans to safeguard the precipitous
and dangerous trails of the park.

L. C. Way, supervisor of the Colorado playground, has devised the plan
of having fog bells scattered along the trails at intervals from a quarter to a half mile apart on Flat Top, Long
peak, Halletts glacier and Halletts peak.
The bells will be of deep tone and will be operated by a system similar to weather vanes.

The bells will be placed on posts
about seven feet high. Suspended over the bell will be a small, light wooden paddle. The slightest breeze will tilt
the paddle and ring the bell. There probably would not be one day in the year when the breeze would be insufficient to ring the bell.

While the mountains are not too dangerous for travel, even the most experienced traveler sometimes will lose the trails in the mountains. About 11,000 feet above sea level and above timber line heavy clouds sometimes
totally obscure the sight of the traveler. Walking in the face of the wind with his head lowered, he is apt to lose his bearings.

LARGEST WIRELESS
PLANT AT SAN DIEGO

New $300,000 Station Is Made
Ready For Work After Satisfactory Tests.

San Diego, Cal.—The new $300,000
wireless telegraph station was recently completed and officially put in commission after suitable tests. It is the largest and most powerful radio station in the western hemisphere and is capable of carrying for 12,000 miles.
Messages from the British fleet cruising
in the North sea, from the high powered German plant at Berlin and from American ships and from Australia have been intercepted.

Three units in the globe encircling
radio service of the United States navy
are now completed. These are the stations at San Diego, Arlington and Darwin (Panama canal zone). A fourth is under construction at Manila.

The three 600 foot aerial towers form
a triangle. They contain 1,000,000 pounds of fabricated steel and are the largest radio towers in the world. They are 150 feet in width at the base and eight feet at the apex. They are placed 1,100 feet apart. Huge porcelain insulators embedded in concrete
form the base of each leg of the towers.

The receiving room is absolutely sound proof, the walls and floors being padded with asbestos. There are four distinct and complete controlling sets
installed in the receiving room, enabling any one of the four operators or
all four simultaneously to send and receive messages.

The aerials or antennae weigh sixteen tons and have a sag between towers of 100 feet. They are twice as large as those strung from the Eiffel tower in Paris. The helix is fourteen feet in diameter and eleven feet in height, or nine feet higher than the helix used in ordinary naval and commercial stations.

WOMAN IS A MAIL CARRIER.

She Braves Winter and Bad Roads in Maryland.

Baltimore.—Braving snow, sleet,
drifts, biting winds in the winter and blistering and scorching heat in the summer, Miss Julia M. Shafer of Knoxville, Md., for twelve years has served
the United States as rural mail carrier.

She is now covering the same route
her father traveled fourteen years ago,
when the route first was established.
Miss Shafer in those days was a substitute for her father; now the father
is substituting for her.

In the twelve years that Miss Shafer
has carried mail it is estimated that she has traveled 93,000 miles. She makes twenty-five miles six days of the week. With the exception of the regular fifteen day annual vacation,
Miss Shafer has been off duty only
thirty days in twelve years.

LINER SAVES TWO AT SEA.

Barge Crew Drifting in Ice Covered Craft—Get $40 Purse.

New York.—The Ward liner Saratoga, from Havana, brought in two seamen, Jose Faria and Manuel Ba-pista, crew of the coal barge Edward
F. Clark, which, with her sister barge,
the Theodora Palmer, broke away from the ocean tug Minnie in a northwesterly blast. The Saratoga fell in with the Clark, covered with ice and the seas breaking over her, about 240 miles south of Sandy Hook.

The two men launched a dory and rowed to the Saratoga and boarded her by a sea ladder. Captain Miller of the Saratoga also noted another barge flying distress signals with a tank standing by and preparing to take off the seamen. Passengers of the Saratoga made up a purse of $40 for the two seamen.

VEAL IS HEALTHFUL THE FOOD PROBLEM

IDEA THAT IMMATURE PRODUCT IS POISONOUS, UNFOUNDED.

LAWS PROHIBIT ITS SALE

Experiments Show That Meat From Young Calves Is Harmless
And Nutritious.

"For many years the idea has been prevalent that immature veal, also called 'bob' or 'monkey' veal, is unhealthy. There has even been an idea that it contained a positive poison of some sort," Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri says. "This popular idea is reflected in the laws
of many states which prohibit the sale
of veal under certain age, usually 3 to 6 week olds. Various charges have been made against it—that it is less wholesome, indigestible, that it contains a poison, that it causes intestinal and digestive disturbances, and other things. Curiously enough, this prejudice is only against veal, because squabs, broilers, young lambs
and sucking pigs are considered delicacies, and sell for higher prices than
the more mature animal."

"Numerous careful experiments
have shown that there is no way in which the age of veal can be told when it is on the market. This means, of course, that there is no difference between the younger and older animals which can be detected by gross examination, under the microscope, or in any manner. Further, it has been shown by workers in the Bureau of Animal Industry that there are no significant differences in the chemical composition of beef and immature veal. In a large number of digestive experiments it was found that young veal was just as quickly digested
as beef. The experiments showed that the meat from very young calves
was harmless and nutritious."

"Still more recently, studies at the office of Home Economics in the State Relation Service at Washington,
in which feeding experiments were conducted on human subjects in normal health, it was shown that the digestibility of the protein contained in 'bob' veal was exactly the same as that for market veal, namely, 93 per cent. The persons who subjected themselves to this feeding experiment
showed no physiological disturbance
during the experiments nor afterward.

It was demonstrated that 'bob' veal
could be prepared for the table in palatable ways, and was not unwhole-
some even when eaten in quantities.
"In European countries this prejudice is not held. How it started in America is difficult to say. We may conclude from the numerous and extensive studies which have been made in recent years that the opinion that
'bob' veal is a common cause of digestive disturbances or that it fails to digest as thoroughly as older meats is without any foundation in fact. 'Bob'
veal is palatable, digestive and wholesome."

INCREASE IN COST OF LIVING IS A NEW DIFFICULTY.

SUGGESTS SUBSTITUTES

Housewife Must Know Relative Values
of Different Foods in Order to Make Good Choice.

Purchasing food supplies and planning and preparing three meals a day
has always been a problem, but with the increase in food prices, the problem is becoming more difficult every day. The abnormal price of certain foods leads the careful housewife to seek substitutes but if she does not know the relative values of the different foods, she cannot make her substitutes intelligently. A knowledge of the part that each of the different classes of foods performs in the body upkeep is essential. Without this knowledge serious mistakes
may be made. Miss Bab Bell of the Missouri College of Agriculture
makes a few suggestions relative to decreasing the cost of living.

(1) Make a thorough study of the different classes of foods and the function of each in the body.

(2) Plan meals carefully so that foods are not duplicated. For instance, do not serve Irish and sweet potatoes in the same meal; cheese and meat; rice and potatoes, spinach and lettuce; navy beans and meat.

(3) Substitute in part, corn starch
for eggs; rice for potatoes; meat substitutes for meat; some good oil for olive oil; some product for butter, especially in cooking; cornmeal for wheat flour. Milk is one of the best foods and consequently can be substituted for higher priced foods. Skim-milk has a high protein value.

The cost of living may be reduced
by:

(1) Purchasing food supplies in large quantities when a good storeroom is available, and by purchasing foods in season.

(2) Preparing the exact amount of food needed. Some foods cannot be warmed or made over.

(3) Planning meals to utilize all "left-overs" and thus reducing the waste which ordinarily goes to the garbage can.

(4) Training children and adults
as well not to waste foods at the table
by leaving quantities on their plates.

(5) Doing your own marketing if possible.

(6) Growing vegetables on every foot of ground available and by canning fruits and vegetables; storing eggs, butter and other products to be used during winter.

MARYVILLE, MO

WITH FEDERAL AID

A COMPREHENSIVE SCHEME OF ROAD BUILDING POSSIBLE.

ROAD PROGRAM PLEAS

Interesting and Instructive to Note
That No State Goes Back on Highway Projects.

Long experience proves that no
comprehensive scheme of road construction can grow out of local interests or local initiative.

The recent passage of the Federal Aid Road Law begins a plan that should have been started two generations ago. When we recall the vast area of land that the government has turned over to private enterprise for the construction of railways we wonder at the long delayed appreciation
of the need of public encouragement
and support for the construction of highways to serve as feeders to these transcontinental lines.

The granting of vast areas of the public domain to private individuals to promote the development of new territory was fully justified in the minds of our early statesmen. Whether the same result might not have been attained at less cost to the nation, is a debatable question. Certainly no one in these days would recommend this method of support to develop a net work of highways. Direct Federal aid is now believed to be the better plan
and the Shackleford bill furnishes the machinery for such aid. It is wisely planned that the support of the federal government shall be supplemented in equal measure by the individual states. This allows a flexibility demanded by the widely varied interests
of different sections of the country
and the state furnishes a proper unit
of control. State legislation in turn will be supplemented by an appeal to the similar unit, the county, and
within the county, townships and districts may be further called upon for special contribution and support in accordance with local needs.

It is interesting and instructive to note that no state, having once started
upon a road program, has ever taken a single backward step. Furthermore,
in practically all cases the tendency
is toward a more complete centralization of control within the state as a unit.

Those state highway commissions
are doing the best work who recognize the needs of local districts and who give these full consideration in the carrying out of more comprehensive schemes. A fully developed plan for the future should be upon a Federal Office of Public Roads, a state highway commission for every state, and
an organization within these commissions that will be responsive to the local needs of every part of the state.

THE AVERAGE GIRL

BECOMES DISILLUSIONED UPON ENTERING BUSINESS LIFE.

WOULD LIVE OWN LIFE

Finds That Man's Supposed Freedom Is Largely A Matter of Tradition.

The average girl, turning from school or home to engage in any gainful occupation, thrills under certain illusions concerning the life upon which she is about to enter.

On the manner in which she meets disillusionments and adjusts herself to actual conditions will depend not only on her success as a wage-earner but her happiness as a woman.

The first illusion is her belief that she will henceforth have the right to live her own life as a man lives his. It is summed up in the phrase, "personal liberty."

This illusion vanishes when she discovers that a man does not lead his own life as she has pictured it. Instead, he lives the life prescribed for him by his employers, by his commercial or professional ambitions, by his family connections and by society. Defying any of these elements, he pays as heavily as a woman pays, though not in just the same way.

His vaunted "personal independence" is largely a matter of tradition handed down from cave-dwelling ancestors. It may impress the clinging vine, a stay-at-home-with-mother type of girl, but it crumbles to dust before the stern realities which he and the business girl share.

She finds that he obeys orders and renders capable service during working hours, or he loses his position. He sacrifices his personal desires and pleasures to meet his obligations as husband, father, and son, or he is held up to scorn by public opinion and the law. He lives up to a certain moral code or he is despised of his own sex.

Next, she discovers that, having demanded equality with men in business, she must share their working conditions, must obey their rules and regulations, and must meet many of their obligations and responsibilities to employers and society. She is not free to live her own life, as she pictured it. Economic, industrial, and social conditions hedge the path in which she must walk.

If she refuses to accept these conditions, various unfortunate things may happen. If she possesses a slothful mind, a mutinous spirit, and sufficient seclusion, she utilizes her opportunities in the business world to practice woman's world-worn profession while she retains a modicum of social standing by holding some unimportant position which taxes neither body or brain.

If she has the slothful brain and the rebellious spirit, but lacks the lure by which she can prey on men, she makes work the secondary interest in her life and concentrates what little ability and intelligence she possesses on winning a husband.

If she decides to accept the true business conditions and to rise in the gainful occupation which she has chosen, then, like a man, she throws body, brain and soul into the work, and wrests success from it—Pictorial Review.

Jolly Farmers Meet.

The Jolly Farmers club met Friday evening, March 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Busby, living seven miles southwest of Maryville. Upon the arrival of the guests, punch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Edna. The main feature of the evening was a mock trial, a case of breach of promise being tried in which Peggy Jane Jenkins (Mrs. J. R. Evans), was the plaintiff and Joshua Jeremiah Ford (T. A. Parrish), was the defendant. The lawyers for the plaintiff were Raymond Jones and J. Mutz. The defendant had for his lawyers J. R. Evans and Alfred Jones. Roy Debord occupied the judge's chair, while Wilbur Briggs was clerk of the court and Chester Espey, sheriff.

The trial progressed rapidly amid many outbursts of laughter by the audience and jury, caused by the wit of the lawyers and the testimony of the witnesses. The witnesses for the plaintiff were Miss Betty Botter (Miss Edna Busby), the life-long chum of Peggy Jane, Miss Jenny Snicklefritz, a schoolmate of Miss Peggy (Mrs. Ray Masters), Mr. Billy Billkens (Mr. Will Bracken), an old friend of both plaintiff and defendant, Miss Susie Ford (Mrs. Wilbur Briggs), a sister of the defendant testified against him. The defendant's witnesses were: Roy Sharpstack (Mr. Ray Masters), Madame Styleleader, an actress whose last play was given at the Hippodrome in Arkoe, Mo., was Mrs. J. Mutz. Professress Suresmart (Mrs. Chester Espey), was the boyhood teacher of the defendant. The main witness for the defendant, however, was Dr. Duroc, a graduate from the Agricultural College of Sunnybrook, who proved the insanity of Mr. Ford. This part was taken by Mr. Roland Evans.

After much deliberation the trial resulted in a hung jury.

After the trial a luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss

Ruby Mae Windsor. The guests departed at a late hour singing the patriotic songs so dear to our hearts just now.

The members of the club present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Debord and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Espey, T. H. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mutz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bracken and son, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Briggs and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Evans and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Masters. The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Butts and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs.

Beautify Your Home

AT this particular time when so much thought and effort is being put forth in making the home beautiful by plant gardening and other means of exterior decorations, we are receiving and placing on display wonderful new assortments of the newest creations for beautifying the interior of the home.

By the use of these new Wall Papers, Curtain Nets, Cretonnes, Madras, Sundours, Rugs and various other Draperies and floor coverings the most ordinary rooms in the every-day sort of home can be raised entirely above the commonplace, with little work or expense and in a way that will reveal the thought and planning put into it.

CRETONNE.

Nothing is more refreshing and beautiful in home decorating than a pretty curtain of floral cretonne or quaint block-printed effect in chintz. Then, there are many household articles that can be made of Colonial Drapery Fabrics in designs and colorings to match the curtains, combining art and utility in home decoration.

We are now displaying a beautiful new assortment of the newest designs in cretonne at the yard 15c to 65c

We are also showing a complete line of cretonne cushions that were designed and made by the School of Art of Chicago. These are beautiful creations and you should not fail to see them. Prices are $1.25 and $1.50

CURTAIN NETS.

Our new showing of curtain laces is attracting the attention of discriminating patrons. Beautiful lace nets that are serviceable, yet distinctive styles and patterns that will give you rich opportunity to make selections that will beautify your home at a very moderate cost.

Nottingham, filet, and leever lace nets, some with dainty lace edge, ecrú, ivory and white, new, original all-over patterns that were designed for the Quaker Lace Manufacturers. This offers a wonderful assortment to select from and every one of these new nets are real values at the prices—the yard 25c to $1.50

OVER-DRAPINGS.

In addition to the large assortment of new cretonnes for over-drapes, we have a wide variety of new plain and figured Sundours—These are in mulberry, green, rose, blue, brown and gold and are in distinctive designs that will give your windows a touch of individuality. These new Sundours are priced at 40c to $2.00

We take measures and make curtains and over-drapes to order and are in excellent position to give you valuable suggestions and assistance in planning your new spring drapes.

In addition to the new draperies, the home furnishings department is showing large assortments of new wall papers, floor coverings. Pay this department a visit and you will be well repaid for the time spent here.

'GLORIANA' AT THE FERN

Production Shown This Afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will receive part benefit from the production of the Bluebird photoplay, "Gloriana," which will be given at the Fern Theatre Monday afternoon and evening. The women belonging to Division E, are selling the tickets and report a ready sale. The press notice of the play, "Gloriana," is as follows:

She was a child of the stage, suddenly orphaned. Accepting the trust from the dying mother a wealthy doctor agreed to rear the child and care for her. First she was placed in an orphan asylum, but was finally adopted and came to live in Dr. Manning's home. Mrs. Manning was a proud and haughty aristocrat, blind to her own shortcomings and much opposed to the girl coming to live in the Manning home.

Zoe Rae plays the leading role. How this girl, by her childish process of reasoning was able to open the eyes of this austere woman and change her into a loving and companionable foster-mother constitutes a most interesting photoplay—a picture of especially strong appeal to women and children. There are more than a score of other children in the picture, but little Zoe Rae carries the responsibilities of leading the action through five interesting reels of beautiful photography and skillful photostaging.

Skill and Science Your Only Hope.

You cannot afford to experiment on the human system. By employing Dr. Prettyman you have a physician who is well known in this community and who has been tested and tried here nearly fifteen years. He devotes all his time to the study, treatment and cure of nervous, chronic and catarrhal troubles, and gets results.

You see him in person and you know you will find him here right along every four weeks. Others come and go but Dr. Prettyman comes right along year after year.

You can consult him free at his office in the Linville Hotel, Wednesday, March 7, 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.

In Case of War.

In reading our exchanges we get the idea that there would be no trouble in finding plenty of officers to command any amount of soldiers that we can get. Here are the names of a few that come to our mind: First of all is that old war horse "Col." R. P. Hosmer then comes the "Colonels" Max Babb, "Col." Cies, "Col." Caywood and last but not least our own "Col." A. J. Cox—Yes, and there's "Col." Bill Whaley. Get your soldiers and we'll get the officers—all right, all right.—Barnard Bulletin.

THE ONWARD MARCH OF Bronchitis, and deep seated Coughs is arrested by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite Ingering Coughs, and Weak Lungs, which threaten you with this fatal disease, and when other help has failed, this medicine is a proved remedy. As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and tonic it is sure to benefit. In all lingering Bronchitis and Throat affections, and in every disease that can be reached through the blood, it never fails to benefit or cure. In tablet or liquid form.

The machinery of the body needs to be well oiled, kept in good condition just as the automobile, steam engine or bicycle. Why should the human system have its own machinery more than that of his horse or his engine? Yet most people do neglect themselves. Clean the system at least once a week with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

What Is Uric Acid?

Everyone has uric acid in the system, but naturally in small quantities. Excessive amount is caused by eating too much meat and foods that ferment in stomach. The kidneys, being the filters of the blood, are supposed to separate and throw the poisons out of the system. Weak, tired and overworked kidneys fail to do this, hence the uric acid accumulates and the urate salts are carried by the blood to the solid tissue structure, causing backache, lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, drowsiness, and tired feeling.

To overcome the trouble is only a matter of toning up the kidneys, and this is best done by a treatment with Anuric, three times a day. Anuric is a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., and can be obtained at any drug store. Experience taught Doctor Pierce that Anuric is a more powerful agent than lithia in dissolving uric acid, and it is then carried out of the system.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
